CAPITOL HILL (UPI) - Heated discussion marked the House floor today as Congress debated the state of consumer prices. Many congressmen complained that the average American just can't afford a new house at today's price of $217,800.00.

Split along party lines, many Republicans felt that $2.20 for a half gallon of milk was a solid consumer bargain, while Democrats pointed out that $3.59 for a pound of bacon was too expensive for many. Since the average U.S. worker now earns a record annual wage of $48,201.00, many members of the House felt that $1.62 for a loaf of bread was quite affordable.

Vice-President Dick Cheney noted that while ten pounds of potatoes had risen to $3.29, he said that the American public had, in 2007, more buying power than ever before.
